It is to this store of learning that every student is drawn in quest of wisdom and worth. From teachers, from each other, from the campus itself a foundation for life built.

This then is the real enduring quality of the school—the succeeding generation of man who comes here to learn, leaving this spot of physical and intellectual beauty, thus adding life to the world. In other words, EHS ADDS LIFE!

1. Students show enthusiasm at Howdy Week assembly. 2. Seniors respond to the roll call with a shower of confetti. 3. Howdy Queen nominee Donna Lacy waiting for winner to be introduced.

Do you know two bits?

After a record-breaking enrollment, students dutifully returned for the first day of classes. Most students gradually accepted the new computer system, which allowed them to arrange their own schedule, along with letting some students out at 12:30. During the first week a committee of teachers kept an eye on the students for friendliness, helpfulness, and nonabusiveness toward the ninth-graders. Kevin Gahagan and Amy Montgomery were chosen as Howdy King and Queen, while Mrs. Massey and Mr. Huffine were picked as the friendliest teachers.

Mindy And "Tommy" Grace Homecoming

The student body chose Mindy Crabaugh, the Senior class nominee, as the 1977 Homecoming queen.

1970 graduate, Brenda McCollum, was chosen as 1977 Coming Home queen.

Patti Parker
Junior Nominee

Tammi Hendon
Sophomore nominee

Tammie Byford
Freshmen nominee

Spirit and excitement played a big role in the 1977 Homecoming. Students got involved by working on their class floats, decorating the club halls, preparing their spirit and enthusiasm for the pep rally, and practicing for a more perfect Homecoming.

The winning float "Rocky" was sponsored by the Freshmen. The Sophomores placed second with "Tommy" as their float. The winning poster was created by the art club, who also took first in hall decorations.

Great performances by the band and drill team made the evening even more enjoyable. Then the big moment finally came, after waiting impatiently Lisa Nichols announced the 1977 Homecoming queen . . . Mindy Crabaugh.

Laurie Lecrory tries to explain the drill team routine to Angela Blalock, but all she can think about is her hair.

For the Freshmen it's all work and no play, or is it?

Lisa Knight and Jennifer Clemmer lead the student body in a T-rah competition yell.

Shaking It With Smiles

"Wrap your arms around me, Come On!" And watch us dance into your heart. We will shake it with Smiles. It's fun and rewarding, but it takes energy, determination, and lots of rhythm. That's what makes the Royal Majestics something to be proud of.

(2) Letia Hines, Dawn Mosely, and Penny Salter perform to one of the most favorite tunes "Rockie". (3) Suzy Hardgrove sits and waits for the cue to perform. (4) Lisa Ward and Lisa Henson have got it down with the beat and rhythm. (5) Donna Lacy wonders what will become of the game as the Royal Majestics stand at attention.

Spirit Brightens Year

"Stand up for the Bulldogs, that's who we're yelling for." Sound familiar? That's the Everman Varsity, J.V., and Freshman Cheerleaders. With all their spirit, ability, and enthusiasm they have brightened up this year for everyone. Making locker signs, decorating homecoming halls, cheering at all the games, baking cookies, or building pyramids at the pep rallies are just half of the many contributions these girls have done for our school. They have done extra entertainment such as skits. Our school year would not have been as exciting if we would not have had these cheerleaders.

(1) Jan Parker, Pearl Bailey, and Debbie McKee work together to raise freshman spirit. (2) Varsity Cheerleaders devoted much time trying to build up the school spirit. (3) Dana Willingham, Robin Robertson, Christina Morquecho, Barbi Sulander, Lisa Nichols strike a traditional pose as the JV Cheerleaders. (4) The continuous devotion of Varsity Cheerleaders Lisa Grier, Kathy Stills, Cindy Carruth, Sonya Ranson, Susan Buice, Joanna Stevenson, Jennifer Clemmer, Patti Parker, Lisa Knight paid off. (5) Head Varsity Cheerleader Patti Parker shows enthusiasm during a pep rally.

Parents Support Activities With Presence

Parents are the people who will drive two hours to watch their daughter compete in a speech tournament, sit in sub-arctic temperatures to watch their son wait on the bench all night in a football uniform, and will give up a Friday evening to cook hot dogs, pour cokes, and serve up Frito pies. Even if they have to wait through the time lags in a basketball tournament, they still support their team. And if it weren't for our parents, we wouldn't even be here.

Variety Adds Life To EHS

Gavle Gordon, Pete Brown and other seniors play games to learn about civics.

The work-a-day world of EHS is interrupted at frequent intervals by activities that keep life from becoming hum-drum. School plays, clubs and public service projects add spice to our regular 5 or 6 classes a day and prove that there is more to life than English and Algebra.

Garry Baker sees he had better "watch his step".

Pep Rallies Keep

EHS Enthusiastic

For an hour on football season Friday mornings, Everman students gather in the auditorium and through their enthusiasm, bring the school together as a whole. The cheers and screams of the students show that, contrary to popular belief, we are still proud of our school.

Juniors Put Up Battle

The Powder Puff game was set to be played on November 10, but was re-scheduled for November 15 due to bad weather.

The game got off to a good start with Seniors making the first touchdown. The Juniors came back with their first touchdown and again the Seniors made another touchdown, making the final score 12-8, Seniors favor. There were no injuries in the game except for a few bruises and a lot of hot tempers. Although the Juniors put up a tough battle, the undefeated Senior team took the game for the second year in a row.

FTA Store, Blood Drive New At EHS

1. Creative seniors devise a new way to get to class. 2. Christmas is time for singing and being with friends, as shown by Student Council and choir members. 3. Mr. Knight and shop classes constructed a new facility from which F.T.A. deals in school supplies. 4. Everman's Future Teachers unload after a long but successful trip to state convention. 5. Stan Watts begins to wonder if the Count Dracula method wouldn't be just as easy.

"Don't look, it won't take long and it will only sting for a minute." If you were one of the many to donate blood, that phrase probably sounded very familiar. The appearance of the Carter Blood Center's mobile unit was only one of many new sights at Everman High. Another was the F.T.A. Store, which successfully transacted business with the students in the form of pens, paper, pencils, rulers and other school supplies. Skateboarding reached a peak in popularity, even higher than it experienced in the '60's. Assemblies were few and far between but students still appreciated the welcomed break in routine.

Honeyball watches the game closely in order to keep a correct scorebook. 9. As trainer of the Bulldogs, Honeyball wraps an ankle in preparation for a game.

Year after year, David Hunnicutt takes care of athlete's injuries, ranging from skinned elbows to knees that require surgery. He has had extensive training, including becoming an Emergency Medical Technician (EMT). At the sporting events throughout the year, he treated injuries that no one else was qualified to handle. Honeyball is, and has always been, a very important part of our athletic department as well as the teaching staff. Many devoted hours of teaching health and tending to athletes has made him a favorite of the student body.

'Never Say Die' Marks Varsity Season

Coach Bob Blevins ended the 1977 football season with his resignation as head Bulldog. Coach Blevins came to Everman 7 years ago, and has been head coach for the last 5. He initiated a vigorous off-season conditioning program and stressed sports as a builder of individual character. He has witnessed the building of one of the finest football facilities in North Texas, the field house complex, complete with Universal Gym and barbells room. Coach Blevins won his player's respect and friendship and left his mark on the men he coached as well as on Everman High School.

Outstanding Offensive back Dennis Savard (47) gains extra yardage against Mansfield.

Offense talks over a crucial goal-line play.

Bulldogs surge on to Alvarado gridiron.

With twelve returning lettermen, the 1978 football season proves to be more promising than this year's. Under guidance of new head coach Jay Law and the changing of districts, next year's varsity Bulldogs look forward to an interesting season.

Head Coach Bob Blevins shows disappointment at Burleson score.

	EHS	OPPONENT
Alvarado	14	0
Boswell	6	27
Burleson	6	13

Brewer	0	31

Determined 'Dogs come close

Varsity Bulldogs got the benefit of an ineligible player on the Boswell football team and ended the season with a 3 and 7 season. Their only actual wins, however, were over Alvarado and Diamond Hill. All through the year the Bulldogs were characterized by a stingy defense and an offense that on occasion produced 78 and 95 yard touchdown runs.

Everman got the benefit of a point after touchdown kicker in the form of "Quazy Toe" Jim Dickinson. He was the Bulldogs first reasonably consistent kicker in several years.

J.V. and Fish Show Promise

The J.V. and Fish Freshman football teams shows much promise and talent for next year's varsity. The freshmen were coached by Coach Ken Holley and Coach Gary Dugger and had a successful season. The J.V. was coached by Coach Mike Barnhill and Coach Mike Pulatte; they came close!

Nine Dogs Defeated

This year's volleyball team exhibited some fine qualities throughout the season, only to be cut short in district play off with Castleberry. An impressive record of only 11-2 and several all-district honors highlighted the season. Lisa Grier, AnnaBeth Knowles, Shelly Gossett received All District awards. Coach Templeton emphasis on defense and team spirit proved to be worthy.

Blacks Diplay Pride In Their Heritage

In celebration of Black History, which has been designated the 2nd week of February,

Black students presented an assembly program sponsored by Mrs. Eleanor Hillard.

Blacks shared their own dreams and the dreams of their forefathers with the audience thru dramatic scenes depicting the outstanding role of Blacks in America's Past, Present, and Future. Mr. Ed Eubanks of Channel 5 was the featured speaker.

Sandra Holmes helps decorate the bulletin board for Black History Week.

Paula Robinson, Terry Lewis, Shell Wilson, and Ramon Weather depict the era of run-away slaves in the early years of Black History.

Channel 5 newscaster, Mr. Ed Eubanks, speaks about his experience as a black T.V. personality.

Roderick Henderson and Joe Sloan play the role of drug addicts to illustrate a poem showing phases of life.

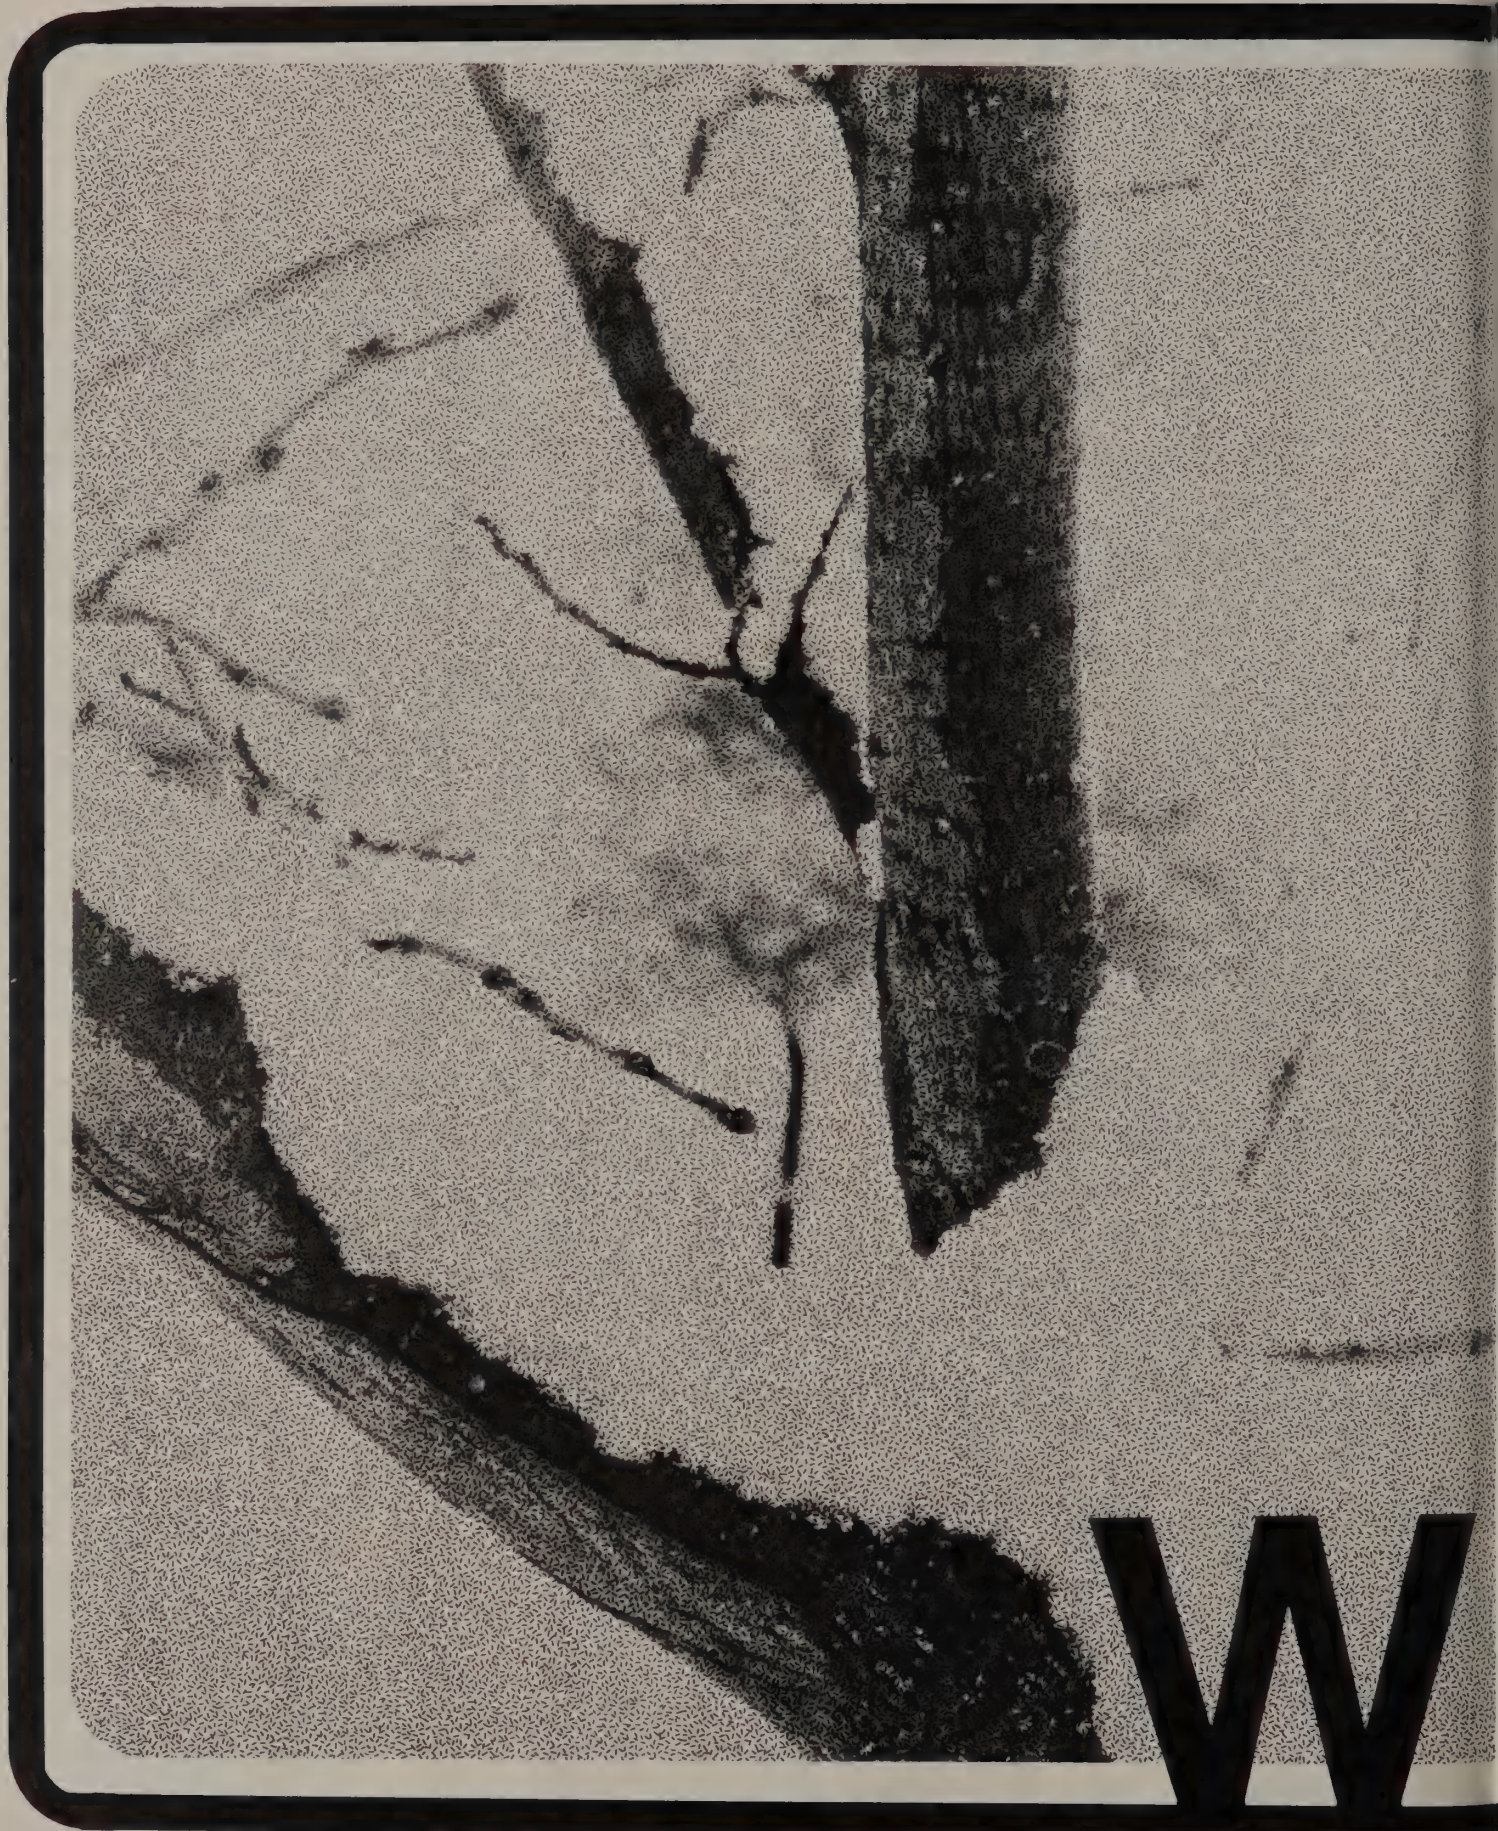

Present day lifestyles are represented by Darrell Brwon, Faye Baree, George Poydras, Ricky Tisdale, Sandra Holmes, Richard Wifgall and Melody Dawson.

Representing a spaceman of the future, Deric Brown is ready for close encounters of any kind.

Ranch Day assembly followed the time honored tradition of live entertainment, an eating contest, and a beard growing contest. The Texas Amoebas, composed of high school students Steve Strong, Gayle Gordon, Joanna Stevenson, and Ralph Rieves, played their distinctive brand of progressive country music. Students seemed to enjoy their folk ballads.

Sophomore Stan Burkely wolfed down his cold three-pound can of pork and beans faster than the other contestants and won the gastronomic duel. Jeff Lawrence and Dwayne Boyd, neither of whom had shaved since before Christmas, shared "fuzziest face" awards.

Craig Hollinsworth tries to figure 15% of $2.89 without using a pen. (4.) Shelly Burke and Shelly Gossett attempt to identify a mysterious item in their frijoles.

Spark Speculation

Each day, lunch at the high school brings a student exodus for the noonday meal. The school's closed campus policy of staying at school for lunch seems to be conveniently overlooked, and students take advantage of commercially prepared or home cooked food. The school board's argument against open campus is that there aren't enough fast food establishments to handle all of the students. However, twelve quick meal restaurants are within the boundaries of the fifty-five minute lunch period. So, it seems that as long as there are adventurous students, there will at least be a partially open campus.

NHS Inducts New Members

1978 proved to be a bumper year for the Everman chapter of the National Honor Society. Thirty-four new members recited the N.H.S. pledge of allegiance, and proceeded to get personal congratulations from Mr. Puryear. All of the students inducted own high grade averages and qualify for the N.H.S. standards of scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

(2) Johnny Johnson lights the candles that start an N.H.S. initiation assembly. (3) Mr. Puryear hands out one of many N.H.S. certificates.

Students Show Versatility

While rehearsing for "Bye, Bye Birdie", Teresa Dickey and Tony Swindall look on patiently as Jan Parker gets the feel of the role of Ursula Merkle.

Alaina Swartsfager smiles in embarrassment because she said the wrong line.

The newly named "Dramatiks & Company", sponsored by Ms. Yarborough, presented three plays this season: the melodrama, "Dirty Work at the Crossroads," the situational comedy, "My Three Angles", and this year's hit musical "Bye, Bye, Birdie."

Dramatiks & Company spent approximately 500 hours in preparation for each production. In addition to rehearsals, they re-built and painted old sets and made costumes.

Mrs. Burk assists her husband in auditions by accompanying Robin Lilly on the piano, meanwhile Angela Blalock awaits her turn.

Assistant director T. Dickey, and T. Swindall, who portrays Albert Peterson in "Bye, Bye Birdie", begin the long and tedious task of blocking for Act I, Scene I.

EHS Has Sweetest Day

Mike Baker and Steve Strong seem to be confused as to what to do with these carnations.

(left) Student Council members Mike Baker, Jackie McKnight, Amy Montgomery, Marisa Bocanegra and Johnny Corpus perform a singing telegram to Chris Jenkins in third period annual staff.

Everman High's day for lovers was again carried out by the efforts of Student Council. Sweethearts wishing to express their friendship had the opportunity to send a love potion, carnation or singing telegram which was delivered 2nd or 3rd periods. Starting a new Valentine tradition, the student body selected a senior girl and guy to be named Mr. and Miss Cupid. The honor was bestowed on Mindy Crabaugh and Paul Kelley.

Cagers Finish Year 26-6.

Craig Hollingsworth (12) makes his move toward the basket.

Varsity basketball proved to be one of if not the most powerful team Everman has ever seen. With all but three returning from last year's zone champs, averaging almost 6.2 with the starting five, the 'Dogs started out playing some of the top teams in the state. They brought into zone play a 17-2 record, their only two losses coming from Ennis, who was rated tenth in state, and falling to Mineral Wells by 15. Mineral Wells later played in the 3A-5 state championship. But as fate would have it the Bulldogs fell victim to circumstance. Playing in a unusual and questionable play-off series for zone champs, the Dogs ended up their season with a question of, "how could it have happened"? By no means did they have any reason to hang their heads, with a record of 26-6, which bettered 4 out of the 8 teams in the state playoffs.

The Junior Varsity compiled another great year behind the dogged determination of second year coach Ken Holley. In the words of Coach Nickols, "We like men in our organization with class, Coach Holley has plenty of it." This year's J.V. swept the first half of play undefeated and brought into district a 12-3 record. These players have proved themselves worthy of becoming varsity players next year.

Unfamiliar with high school competition, the freshmen team faced a pretty tough schedule. But under the supervision of first year coach Gary Duggar the fish ended up with a winning season.

Head manager Johnny Johnson did an excellent job with the managerial problems and tasks. "Thanks Bear."

J.V. Girls Prove Worthy

Pearl Bailey uses a screen for a sure two points.

This year started a new league "Girl's Basketball." Everman J.V. girls were a very tough and well put together team. Most people thought that it would be a good season and the team hung in there with a record of 8-7.

Marta Behrens shoots two.

Freshman Girls Show Talent

Daina Dalton takes a rebound back to the basket.

The freshman girl's basketball team was a steady team with a 10-9 record. But the record didn't prove a thing because when they did play, the opposing team knew they were there because the girls back Everman's tradition known as "Defense."

Booster Club Honors Outstanding Efforts

Booster Club award winners rise to receive their plaques.

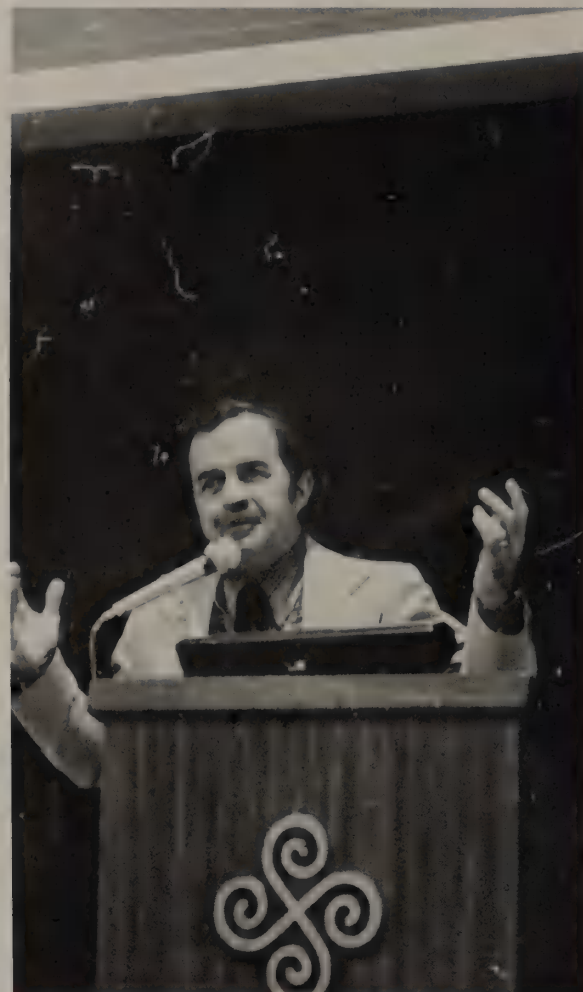

The annual Fall Athletic Banquet marked the passing of another slate of dedicated football players, among which were three seniors who were honored by the Everman Booster Club.

On the defense roster, back Gerald Knight and lineman Eddie Bell received awards for being the most outstanding in their field. Seniors dominated the offensive line-up with Dennis Savard at back and Neal Richter on the front line.

Sammy Smith received the honor of being chosen Player of the Year. Amy Montgomery was selected as Football

Sweetheart and was presented with a dozen roses by team captains Paul Kelley and Larry Unger.

Baseball Captures Spring Sports Fans

Working out since mid-January, the '78 baseball squad looked optimistically toward the upcoming season. Losing five starters to graduation, the diamondmen returned with six lettermen from the previous district championship team. With the aid of new coach Barry Hoffpauir, former All-American from Texas Tech, and assistant coach Mike Barnhill, the team started it's long road to victory. Other new additions to the program were a Junior varsity team, a pitching machine, bat girls and caliche infield with underground water sprinklers.

Golf And Tennis Swing Into Action

Interest in golf has risen sharply in the last few years and peaked in the '78 season. The teams consisted of 26 members, who competed in 9 tournaments and made a good showing at all of them. To add to the consistency of school sports, the golfers received letter jackets and team t-shirts to wear to school on tournament days for publicity as well as team spirit. The golfers practiced regularly at the Timberview Golf Course, where owner and Everman resident Mr. Fouts so graciously volunteered the course services, at no charge.

Johnny Johnson, Coach Reed, Tommy Fouts, Paul Norris, and Leonard Stewart check the scorecard to see who won the round.

Girl's golf for 1977-78 consisted of Laura Savage, Kim Beauchamp, Cissy Washburn, Linda Berg, Shelly Burke and Jami Winthrow.

Shelly Burke concentrates on a challenging putt.

Plagued by the building of a new gymnasium on top of the old courts, the tennis team was forced to travel to other area courts for practice. Despite a hectic schedule and sometimes losing the race to the courts, the E.H.S. racketeers continued to stay on top.

Tracy Yoder concentrates on shot-put technique.

In keeping with last year's success, girls' track avidly awaits to get their bid in for the district crown. Early in the season, hard work paid off with two big victories in the 440 and 880 relays.

Fired Up and Ready

After a successful summer at SMU Cheerleading camp, where they won seven superior ribbons, one spirit stick, and a superstar award, the Varsity Cheerleaders came back "Fired up and Ready!" During pep rallies they took us on an "Eagle Hunt," gave us a ride on the "Bulldog Locomotive," and even brought us such celebrities

Music Makes Everything Beautiful

Music plays a big part in the lives of all. The choir has represented EHS in Regional, solo and choir contest, state solo contest, and participated in various churches and business organizations in the community. Musicals, spring contests, banquets and assemblies have provided a challenge for all who are involved.

Making the community and school a better place to live and learn was the Key Club and Keywannettes goal. Both clubs participated in working in the nursing homes entertaining and working in the childrens ward at various hospitals in the city. Needy families in Everman school district appreciated the donations made by the Key'ers in order to purchase complete dinners for Thanksgiving and Christmas. The clubs sponsored a community blood drive that also proved to be very successful.

The "Machine" Marches On . . . . .

October 10th the "Super Gold Marching Machine" participated at the Cotton Bowl in the Super Marching Band Contest during the Texas State Fair. The band was one of approximately fifty such bands from over the state that came to test the quality and precision of their marching ability. Everman executed many dazzling formations: a moving starburst, a block formation featuring a trumpet trio—Tony Swindall, Phillip Kilgore, Norris Samuelson, Jr.—and the finale, a huge formation of Texas to the music of "Yellow Rose of Texas."

There would not be libraries if librarians were not there to run them. That's why there are li-brary clubs. The Library Club helps promote in-terest in students to seek careers in Library related fields. Our library club sponsored events to raise money, and participated in lo-cal and State conventions.

Everybody, the schools' monthly news maga-zine, is the responsibility of the newspaper staff. The staff gathers information to provide the student body with news, feature stories, editorials, and ads. It also gives the staff a small taste of what to expect in the field of professional journalism and from the media.

Continuing The Trend

Selling dance tickets, delivering singing telegrams and planning Spring fever week were all a part of being a Student Council member this year. This organization, which represents the student body, continued the trend of having a most successful year. The outcome of all these activities were attributed to the diligent effort of this dedicated group of students.

HECE, the newest vocational program at EHS, has a capacity enrollment. The successfulness is due to the fine spirit of the students and the cooperation from the training station. Students were employed by department stores, fast food restaurants, child care centers, and also in public schools. They also participated in fund raising projects by selling hats and scarfs.

Kim Peters, Elizabeth Powers, Robin Burns, and Pam Smith, are majoring in interior decorating.

Only one more year is left in high school for the Juniors. However, being a Junior carried with it many distinctions. They ordered Senior rings, which were delivered in December, which was just one of the signs of upperclass status. Junior candy sales provided essential funds for the Senior Prom and proved to be a job well done by the Seniors of '79.

Ricky Tisdale and Derius Gill make dates for Friday night.

School was not all work and no play! Somehow among all the compositions, worksheets, and tests, students found the time to have fun.

The members of the class of '80 were no different, because they seemed to get in their share of goofing off. They could be seen talking in the halls, buying candy in the coke room, or perhaps talking to a "loved one" on the phone. Those times were great, but then there were those who suffered the consequences, which ranged from looks to licks.

No matter if the times were good or bad, they were times, which will never be forgotten.

The freshmen came to high school with much spirit and determination, proving this by having the winning float of the "77-78" homecoming. The float symbolizing the movie "Rocky" was a boxing ring with a huge glove inside. The backboard had the "Rocky" silhouette and the phrase: Pride of "81" on it. Their homecoming queen nominee was Tammy Byford, who was escorted by Jeff Byford. The freshmen show much promise to become the proud, and winning senior class of "81".

But Take It All In Stride

It is a high school tradition to hassle the freshman class. This year was no exception as the upperclassmen made it a point to uphold the tradition. Teachers tried to make learning an easy task for everyone. They strived to catch student interest by using new and innovative ideas. School Board members approved the construction of a new gym to provide equal facilities for boys and girls. It will be located south of the present gym. In addition to a new gymnasium, we took a step towards the future by using the computer system to schedule classes and report grades.

Learning to clarify, simplify, and unify is the goal of all math classes. Mathematics offers students a chance to figure out challenging problems, which in turn leaves them with a sense of accomplishment. Since mathematics is a part of everyday life, students will have benefited from the problems that they were able to solve.

Solutions Explored To Society's Problems

Below: Judge Donna Varnes, Bailiff David Weeks, form their own opinion or Mrs. Bassett's testimony in a kangaroo court. Right: During a civics mock trial Jennifer Clemmer was sworn in on a civics book by David Weeks.

Mr. Nichols gives his class information for their notes.

Mr. Holt shows his class a film strip.

A new course emerged into the Department of History entitled American Culture. This class was taught by Mr. Randy Holt.

The curriculum for the new American Cultures class was planned by first deciding that anything that affects the lives of American people comes under the study of American culture. This broad area was narrowed to some of those topics the class felt would be of most interest to them. Subjects included crime, abortion, world hunger, Vietnam, Watergate, and black history. Since the class was small, lively and energetic discussions were possible.

Civics classes visited the courthouse, prepared a mock trial and listened to various speakers. The students learned about the past thru films, notetaking, reading and class discussions.

Even though our school no longer participates in the vocational office education program at T.C.J.C., due to lack of interest, a record number enrolled here for practical classes which help train them for a variety of office jobs. Students were offered courses such as typing, bookkeeping, record keeping, and shorthand. H.E.C.E. (Home Economics Cooperative Education), I.C.T. (Industrial Cooperative Training) D.E. (Distributive Education) are the programs which allow students to work while attending school, thereby providing wage earnings while gaining school credits.

The Math, Language Lab, and Vocational Adjustment Class comprise the Special Education Department. These classes help students develop their basic skills in English and Math.

Students interested in art, music, drama, and foreign language found excitement in the Fine Arts programs. The drama classes assisted in the production of "Bye, Bye, Birdie", "Dirty Work at the Crossroads", and "My Three Angels".

The chorus presented concerts in various assemblies. The Golden Band from Bulldog Land provides rhythm and color for the school and participated in contests. The library has 6,657 books available for student use along with printed and audio-visual materials for all phases of the school program.

Popular courses are Home Economics and Shop, which provide the opportunity for anyone to learn about child care, sewing, cooking, or woodmanship.

In child development, taught by Mrs. Kathy Brummett, students read a monthly guide on the development of pre-natal and see films showing the stages of development and birth. Mrs. Brummett also teaches Home and Family Living, a course offering insights on mannerisms, budgeting and family life.

In addition to individual projects, the shop class made a wooden cabinet to serve as a general store, FTA's project of selling school supplies. They also constructed a 8' light table with full storage for use by Student Publications.

School work, athletics, club meetings and all school activities come to an end. In a year plagued with school closings due to icy roads and snow, students somehow made the year exciting for themselves and others.

The student body witnessed a new system of class assignments and report cards. Computers took the worry out of showing report cards to parents, and students who selected a 0 period found themselves coming to school at 7:30.

In the last year of 3A-5 competition, teams worked even harder to accomplish goals set before the season started. Next year, Everman will switch to 3A-11 and the monotony of competing with the same schools will change as others like Brownwood, Crowley and Stephenville will challenge the mighty EHS Bulldogs.

A year of new coaches, computers and a new gym: It all comes to an end so quickly. For Seniors, life comes at full blast. Underclassmen will carry on a winning tradition at EHS and prove that this year and others to follow did, in fact, ADD LIFE to everyone.
